Skidmarx Double Bubble Screen for Suzuki GSX-R1000K9

Skidmarx have developed a double bubble screen that will enhance the performance of the all-new Suzuki GSX-R1000K9 and emphasise the sporting pedigree of its new bodywork.

Skidmarx make their screens at their factory in Weymouth from 3mm acrylic, using information and experience from their long association with top race teams, including both the Worx Crescent and TAS Relentless Suzuki teams in British Superbikes. They design their double bubble screens to enhance the aerodynamics of the bike, significantly increasing the size of the air pocket behind the screen to provide greater protection at speed for the rider. Available in clear and tinted options, both priced £49.95 each; a standard version is also available at £39.95. The GSX-R1000K9 double bubble fits uses the existing mounting points and fasteners, so no drilling, cutting or special tools are required. Coloured versions are also available for a £6 surcharge.

Skidmarx also produce a matching headlight cover – priced at £19.50 – offering essential protection to valuable light units from stone chips and road debris. Formed from the same high quality 3mm acrylic as the screen, the covers are held securely in place with Scotch Lock fixing pads and are available in clear, tinted and coloured versions.

Editors Notes: A clear headlight cover is the only finish legal for use on UK roads. All other finishes are for show purposes and off road use.
